

Area ready to ring in new year of '79

By CATHEY JAMISON
Press-Record Staff Writer

New Year's Eve will arrive on Sunday. For some, the passing of another year is a time for contemplating things past and things to come. They celebrate quietly, with just a few close friends.

But for most of the adult population, New Year's Eve means party time. Ringing in the new year means lots of fun, food, drink and noise for millions of people.

In the Quad-Cities, hundreds of gatherings are being planned, from the small quiet kind to the big ones where many people will get together to welcome the new year of 1979. Be it a quiet little gathering or a big bash, most will have one thing in common — the drink.

Having more than a little too much in the way of alcoholic beverage seems to be the traditional way to bring in the new year for most people, with certain congregations as major exceptions, of course.

While the spirits do seem to make some folks feel happy and friendly, too much makes operating an automobile hazardous to one's health. Not to mention the safety of those who might be anywhere in the vicinity of a vehicle being driven by one who has done too much celebrating.

Ron Veizer, Granite City's chief of police, suggests moderation as the best means of preventing the first day of the new year from being the day you had the accident.

"People who have been drinking excessively should not drive," he said. "They should hand the keys to their spouse or a friend who has not been drinking."

"It really isn't too bad around here," he continued. "People are staying pretty close to home."

You may be sure that there will be plenty of police protection visible in the Quad-Cities on New Year's Eve.

Their advice is that if you are thinking about trying to drive home and you have had too much to drink, don't. If you drive in a dangerous manner, you will be arrested and taken off to jail. Veizer emphasized that the police will be out there to help citizens who need help. "If we see someone who has pulled off and is having trouble making it home, we will see to it that he gets home."

The police chief suggested that if you know you are going to have to drive home, quit drinking at least an hour before you leave. Give yourself time to sober up a bit. Eat something then as well as earlier in the evening.

He also suggested that drivers stick to the main streets on their way home. "They are well lighted and there is more room to maneuver," he said.

New Year's Eve can be one of the best times of the year. If you "party" but take a few precautions, the new year is likely to start out safely, and that is the best way, police and other authorities emphasize.

BUBBLY NEW YEAR of 1979 will be the subject of parties in homes, halls and restaurants Sunday night. This view of preparations at one party site here includes a balloon, a noisemaker, a glass and a colorful hat complete with streamers that spell out "Happy New Year."

Annex tract

By HARRY BARNES

A 427-acre tract of land proposed for development as an industrial park became a part of Granite City Tuesday night.

City Council members, acting on schedule in a series of procedures necessary to annex the area and to clear the way for providing city services in future development projects, enacted an annexation ordinance by a unanimous vote.

The ordinance represented the final step in several weeks of council procedures that included rezoning of the tract for heavy industrial and business purposes, approval of an agreement between the city and Illinois Power Co., owner of the land, and acceptance of a new 50-year franchise with the utility.

Prior to action on the annexation ordinance, council members also approved Tuesday night an amendment to the city's zoning law providing an M-3 (heavy industrial) zoning category which the city did not have previously. That ordinance also zoned part of the tract for business purposes.

Both ordinances were given final passage on a suspension of the rules and will become effective immediately.

Phone confusion

By MICK STRANGE
Press-Record Staff Writer

Social agencies, business and residence phone numbers, including hundreds and perhaps thousands are incorrectly listed in the Illinois Bell telephone directory dated December 1978 and just delivered in the Quad-Cities area, it was reported at a special meeting of the Madison Business Association (MBA) Wednesday morning.

"I am very upset and I know several people are. Last year my business was not even in the white pages. This year I am listed in Granite City in the white pages and in Granite City in one of my two yellow page ads," Scannell said.

Wayne Scannell, president of MBA, said, "I have been flooded with phone calls on these errors and I called this meeting hopefully to come to some kind of agreement with the telephone representatives for correcting these errors."

Mrs. Kitty Osterander of the Illinois Commission on Delinquency Prevention, 10 Collinsville Ave., East St. Louis, telephone 875-9300, said, "I

BARBON'S BUSINESS AND FINANCIAL
FORECAST FOR 1979

By Barbon's Reports, Inc., Wellesley Hills, Mass., December 28, 1978.

A year ago, our forecast for 1978 anticipated further progress on the business front.

Despite a long coal strike, an advance to peak levels of interest rates, and the appalling decline in the value of the U. S. dollar against the stronger currencies of the world, general business did actually display more staying power than had seemed attainable.

Unfortunately, the specter of inflation—about which we had warned—also made its presence felt during the past year. This cruel "hidden tax" proved to be a dual-edged sword:

On the one hand, the inflation psychology prompted buying of durable goods and homes in expectation of higher prices, thus helping to sustain the powerful business pace; on the other hand, inflation was instrumental in generating the flight from the dollar and the consequent poor performance of the stock market.

So, 1978 saw public confidence undermined by anxiety over the twin forces of inflation and soaring interest rates even while there were healthy advances in industrial activity, employment, personal income, and corporate profits.

1979—SOME LETDOWN
FOR BUSINESS

As 1979 makes its debut, the present upturn in the business cycle is already considerably longer than the average life span of this nation's expansion phases.

This does not automatically—and of itself—mean that a trend reversal is imminent, but a cyclical upturn which has lasted 44 months is obviously vulnerable.

After careful consideration of all relevant factors, the staff of Barbon's Reports predicts that the American economy will slip into a recession in 1979.

Until early fall, it appeared that enough business vitality existed to sustain the economic upturn through the better part of 1979, or at least to avert a recessionary setback in the course of the year.

The situation was changed, however, when the Administration and the Federal Reserve took radical measures to dampen the forces of inflation and to arrest the weakness of the dollar.

The chief steps were the further boost in interest rates and the tightening of credit, plus the implication there might be further moves if necessary. With interest rates extremely high, prospects are obviously unfavorable for such economic barometers as inventory accumulation, home building and general construction, business capital expenditures, and consumer purchases of automobiles and other high-priced items.

DEEP, PROLONGED
RECESSION UNLIKELY
Though a recession is now more a distinct likelihood than a mere possibility, its probable severity is a matter of debate.

A good deal will depend not only on how much additional pressure the nation's leadership will bring to bear upon inflationary forces but also on its

Home mortgage plan advancing

Preparation of a tentative program in which Granite City would sell a multi-million-dollar bond issue to fund home mortgages at a lower-than-market interest rate was given a "go ahead" by City Council members Tuesday night.

By an informal vote taken during a caucus session that preceded the regular council meeting, the aldermen authorized Arvil Taylor, administrative aide to Mayor Paul Schuler, to proceed with a plan of procedure for discussing the program with Quad-City area lenders who would participate in the program.

The authorization was given with the understanding that a meeting between bank and lending officials, bond brokers who would handle the bond sale and city officials would be held to give

Car kills woman

An elderly woman was injured fatally and her niece was hurt seriously when they were struck by a Granite City Police Department squad car on a red-light run on Niedringhaus Avenue at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 6:35 p.m. Wednesday.

Mrs. Dora S. Sparks, 79, of 2826 Myrtle Ave., died in the emergency room of the hospital at 7:15 p.m. after doctors' attempts to revive her, using cardio-pulmonary-resuscitation, failed.

Her niece, Mrs. Mary A. Sweeney, 54, of 2927 Buxton Ave., was admitted to the hospital with a dislocated right shoulder, abrasions to her left thigh, arm and hand and right hand and face; cuts to her mouth and chin and a large bump to her forehead.

Patrolman Don Petrillo said he received a call of a known police character with a gun causing a disturbance at Hoppe's Tavern, Nameoki Road and Route 102, and responded eastbound on Niedringhaus Avenue with red lights, Opticom and a siren.

He turned the siren off, however, when he approached the hospital zone.

Fire hall to be an office building

The old Nameoki fire station building at 3900 Nameoki Road—occupied in 1927 and used as a fire station until December 1976—was sold by the Granite City Council Tuesday night to the highest of four bidders.

The property went to Don Adams and Jack Dempsey, operators of Dempsey-Adams Auto Body, on a high bid of $55,125.

Acceptance of the bid followed action by the aldermen to rescind a motion approved during the Dec. 19 council session rejecting all four bids.

The four bids, presented to the council a week ago, included the Dempsey-Adams bid of $55,125, a bid by William E. Brandt for $55,100, by Charles Lotnik for $50,000 and by B. C. Gitcho for $49,850.

At that time, council members acted on a motion to reject the bids because they did not reach $59,000 which was the amount of an appraisal made by the Granite City Realty Co. for the city.

Tuesday night, however, Alderman Lloyd Bailey, chairman of the council's City Buildings Committee, told the council that he believed the action taken to reject the bids a week previously had been premature because I don't think we are going to get any higher bids than these."

Alderman Sam Whitmer said he would not have voted to reject the bids if he had known what they were. He noted that the motion to reject the bids had been made before the bids were read in the Dec. 19 meeting. Bailey made a motion to rescind the earlier rejection of all bids, an action that required a two-thirds majority vote by council members. The vote was unanimous.

Bailey then made a motion that the high bid be accepted. That motion also carried unanimously, with three IVAN F. HARRISON is a gentleman who believes in helping. His notary seal, above, is one of the tools he has used to provide some of that help. Harrison in the other pictures discusses the idea of saving money and runs up a few figures to prove his point.

Text and photos by Cathey Jamison

Helping others... ... for 60 years

Ivan F. Harrison is a kindly, 81-year-old gentleman who lives in the 2500 block of Cleveland Boulevard. He has been helping people in one way or another for over 60 years.

Since 1918, Harrison has been in the shoe business, real estate and insurance, and other occupations. He was a clerk and an auditor for the state. And throughout his entire working life, he has also been a notary public. Few know that Harrison is a notary; there is no sign or advertising to draw your attention.

He has been a notary for longer than most, but rarely charges for the service. "I never made my living with the notary's seal," he says. "I kept the commission — renewing it every four years — to be able to help my friends and clients."

Evelyn Bowles, Madison County clerk, knows of no one who has been witnessing signatures longer.

Harrison still uses the seal that he used when he was first commissioned in 1918. "It is made of steel," he said with pride. "These days, they are mostly plastic. I have had to change the heads, but I like this old seal, so I will hang onto it."

The notary's seal is one of the tools that enables Harrison to be of service to people. He also uses an adding machine and a typewriter. For almost as many years as he has been a notary, Harrison has been helping folks with their tax returns.

Over the years, Harrison noticed that most of his tax clients had little in the way of savings to report at tax time. That fact worried the young accountant and he began to advise those clients that they should be saving and investing some of their earnings.

Harrison has developed what he says is an easy way to save money and make it work for the people he serves. "There is no difference between a man who earns $20,000 a year if they both spend it all," he said. "Of course, the one who makes $20,000 will live a little higher on the hog."

Saving money, according to Harrison, is an easy matter if you really want to do it.

"If you take 10 percent of your earnings, off the top, then it is easy to tuck that money away," he said.

"If you wait even a day or so after a payday to take that 10 percent out, it becomes the bottom 10 percent and that is a lot harder to part with."

Harrison helps his clients and friends to save by providing answers when they ask questions or make excuses like, "I can't save any money because I need every penny I make to live on."

He counters with, "what would you do if suddenly your income was reduced by 10 percent? You would adjust your lifestyle." The veteran adviser contends that people who do not save any money fail to do so either because they don't want to or because they don't know how.

If you find that you cannot bear to part with that 10 percent of your income at first, there are — according to Harrison — quite a number of little tricks you can use to get yourself into the saving habit.

For example, save every quarter that you get in change for three months. Use a cigar box or a jar.

With a jar, you can see your money grow. You will be surprised how much money you will have saved in that three months.

After the three months, take the money out of the jar and put it in a savings account.

Harrison advises that you try the tricks if necessary, and soon you will find that you have enough saved to buy stocks or bonds.

In this manner, according to Harrison, your money will grow with little effort on your part. "You'll never get very rich just by working," he said.

"On the other hand, if during your working years you set aside a portion of your working years will be shortened considerably and you will be able to retire with the security you desire."

The advice he dispenses, like the notary certification, is given free most of the time.

"Helping people along the road to success and security has always been my concern," he said. "And if I give something away, I get back more than I give — if what I have done helps."

Phone confusion

first thought our agency was not even listed and then I learned we are listed with an agency we have nothing to do with. I tried calling the telephone company and was treated very nastily and like I was an imbecile. I complained last year when we were listed wrong. Our clients don't know how to reach us, thanks to the telephone company."

Tillie Nornberg said, "For 65 years I have lived and operated my store in Madison and now the telephone company moves my store to Granite City and my home to Venice."

"I would like to know what kind of people put out this book?" she said angrily.

Business woman Helen Daley said, "I have six listings in the yellow pages wrong and two in the white, all listing our store and home in Granite City."

"I had two customers call the telephone company and were told there was no Daley Gift Shop. One of our deliverymen had a very hard time trying to find us, thanks to the telephone book."

Representing Illinois Bell at the meeting were Kenneth L. Evers, commercial manager for Granite City, and Mrs. Helen Burner, manager for the area business exchanges.

Evers said, "First let me give some background. This is the first year we have attempted to show community identification."

"We are very concerned over these errors and are trying to determine the extent of the problem. It is obvious somebody did not pay enough attention."

"The yellow pages are handled by the Ruben H. Donnelley Corporation and we have been in contact with them about the errors.

"What we are going to do to correct the situation I just do not know at this time."

Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk asked Evers, "What kind of time frame are you talking about before some kind of solution can be determined?"

Evers answered, "A week or two." Numerous errors affecting Granite City business and residential numbers and addresses were mentioned in the rather heated meeting.

Mrs. Burner asked that anyone finding their listings incorrect should call toll-free 271-9995 and one of the management personnel would answer and take the correct information.

Scannell called another meeting of the MBA for Wednesday, Jan. 3, at 8 a.m. in the Madison Memorial Center.

Mrs. Martin, 79, dies

Mrs. Luella Martin, 79, of 2342 Winters Drive, was found without signs of life in the kitchen of her home about 12:30 p.m. Wednesday and was pronounced dead there at 12:45 p.m. by Madison County Deputy Coroner Dick Mizell.

Mrs. Martin's son, Melton Martin, who found his mother, said she had suffered a heart ailment several years.

Mrs. Martin was born in Rumbarr, Mo. She lived in Granite City 61 years and previously resided in Poplar Bluff, Mo.

Her husband, William Lester Martin, died in 1945. She was a member of Community Heights Assembly of God Church. Beside her son, Melton, Mrs. Martin is survived by three other sons, Roscoe Martin, Clovis Martin and Kenneth Martin, all of Granite City; two daughters, Mrs. Muriel (Tracy) Padgett and Mrs. David (Dorothy) Line, both of Granite City; 19 grandchildren and 24 great-grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in today's obituary column.

Mrs. Mollie Kahler dies

Mrs. Mollie H. (Hodshire) Kahler, 89, of 2833 Hodges Ave., died at 3:10 p.m. Wednesday at the Pleasant Rest Nursing Home in Collinsville, where she had resided six years.

She was born in Flora, Ill., and lived in this area almost all of her life.

Mrs. Kahler worked as a seamstress for Fleischman's Men's Store and later for Schermer's Men's Store, prior to her retirement.

She was a member of the First United Presbyterian Church and belonged to the Sisterhood of the Dewey Avenue United Methodist Church. Her husband, Alfred H. Kahler, died in 1950. Survivors include one son, Alvin Kahler Sr., Granite City; two daughters, Mrs. Paul (Ella Mae) Gabriel and Mrs. Shirley Van Buskirk, both of Granite City; four sisters, Mrs. Genevieve Grundon, Mrs. Fern San Soucie, Mrs. Mabel Greer and Mrs. Herbert (Ella) Lindner, all of Granite City; one brother, William Hodshire, Perry, Fla.; and 16 grandchildren. Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

which is standard practice so hospital patients are not disturbed.

Petrillo said the two women then alighted from a westbound auto driven by Mrs. Sweeney's husband, in mid-block, and began crossing from the westbound lanes into the eastbound lanes, toward the hospital.

The officer said he locked the brakes of the squad car and swerved to the right, attempting to go over the curb and onto the sidewalk, but the tires would not go over the curb and slid, instead, along the curb, keeping the car in the street where it struck both women.

An ambulance was called and took both women to the hospital emergency room. Police detectives were called to investigate the accident and take measurements of skid marks and other evidence. The reports have been turned over to the Madison County State's attorney's Office which authorized the Granite City police to continue the investigation and keep the state's attorney notified of its progress.

Granite City Chief of Police Ronald J. Veizer commented last night, "This is very unfortunate. However, we cannot look at it now, see that the officer was at any fault."

This morning, he said Mrs. Sweeney told officers neither she or Mrs. Sparks saw the squad car coming at them. They were going to visit Mrs. Sweeney's sister, a patient at the hospital, she said.

The initial tavern disturbance to which Petrillo was responding was either a false call or had been quelled before officers arrived. Four police cars were summoned, because the man said to have a gun in the tavern has been known to be violent toward policemen, Veizer said. The man was not in the tavern when the officers arrived.

Mrs. Sparks was born in Kentucky and resided in the Quad-City area 50 years.

She was a member of the City Temple Assembly of God Church.

Her husband, Jess Sparks, died in 1974, and she was preceded in death by a son in 1957.

Survivors include one sister, Mrs. Myrvera Latham; two granddaughters and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

upon publication. Enactment was by an 11 to 0 vote in favor, with three council members absent.

The 427-tract of land northwest of Granite City was located in parts of Chouteau and Nameeki Townships, but under the law governing co-extensive boundaries, the land now will become part of Granite City Township.

The land tract involved is southwest of Old Highway 66 and Route 3, has a link on the north to former Highway 66 (Chain of Rocks Road) and is connected on the south with the Granite City boundary line. It is east of the Chain of Rocks Canal and immediately west of Highway 3.

While officials of Nameeki and Chouteau Townships have protested that the loss of the area will inflict damaging tax losses on both townships, no one appeared at the council session Tuesday night to protest the final passage action.

Voting in favor of the annexation and zoning amendment were Aldermen Sam Whitmer, Roy Poulos, Everett Morlen, Glen Sprinkle, Warren Decatur, Fred Schuman Jr., Clyde Boyd, Ronald Coleman, Earl Baker, Mrs. Margaret Norn and Lloyd Bailey. Absent were aldermen Charles Douglas, Gerald Farmley and Paul R. Bowler.

Illinois Power Co., which acquired the land 13 years ago, has said it decided to prepare the area for industrial use because of a mounting number of inquiries for a sizeable tract of land for industrial purposes.

Annexation to Granite City was a major step in developing the area because any prospective buyer would require fire and police protection, drainage and sewer facilities and street maintenance, utility officials said.

Surveys of the area indicate that a tax base providing as much as $6 million in taxes would be provided by industrial development of the area, as compared to a tax revenue of about $1.6 million if the same land was developed as residential property.

Home mortgage

the aldermen a detailed insight into the program and how it would operate.

Under the plan—which now is in use in a number of home rule communities authorized to issue bonds for such purposes—Granite City would authorize a bond issue from which the money would be used to finance home mortgages as a means of attracting more homeowners to the city. The interest rate on such loans would be smaller than rates set by the market at the time loans were made.

Taylor submitted a report to the aldermen during the caucus, explaining that area bank representatives and savings and loan officials have indicated interest in the program. Loans would be made through regularly established lenders.

Taylor set out several recommendations that he suggested be included in the preparation of such a mortgage lending program, including an income minimum of $40,000 for those permitted to obtain loans. He also recommended an $80,000 maximum on the amount of mortgages.

In discussing the type of loans that would be involved in the program, Taylor said:

"I recommend that the program we develop include VA, FHA, and conventional mortgages. In this way we will provide an instrument that will enable young families with little down payment to take advantage of a lower interest rate and secure housing they normally would or could not afford in the current market. (The VA and FHA mortgages could be used for this purpose.)

"Conventional loans would then be available for those people who have been able to save a down payment but have been deterred by the high interest rate and the associated high monthly house payment."

Once the details of a program are worked out, City Council members will need to approve a resolution approving the procedure and authorizing the bond issue, Taylor explained.

Hard earned

Three members of the JCAH spent three days at St. Elizabeth. "While here, they met with our board of directors and all of our medical staff members," Sister Thomas said.

"They also met with our chief of staff and vice-president of staff while reviewing our records. They visited every department in the hospital and interviewed each department head.

Our associates (employees) were also questioned at random."

In addition, JCAH surveyors closely examined hospital records, including minutes of medical staff meetings, patient records, medical charts and nursing care plans.

After the survey was completed, it was decided to accredit St. Elizabeth for two years, the most possible.

The hospital's executive vice-president, Ted Eilerman, said, "I think it's indicative of the quality of medicine that is practiced here."

He also said that the competency of our medical staff and our associates at the hospital. Ours is one of the best community hospitals in the St. Louis area."

council members absent.

The building was vacated upon completion of a new Nameeki fire station building at Richmond Avenue and Johnson Road late in 1976, after being used as a fire station for almost 50 years.

An attempt to sell the building was made by the council a year and a half ago, receiving only two bids. Both were rejected at that time because they were less than a $44,000 appraisal.

Alderman Ronald Coleman, following acceptance of the bid to sell the building, brought up the question of zoning that might be involved if the buyers wanted to establish an auto body shop there.

Warren Decatur, alderman of Ward Four, told the council, however, that he had talked with Dempsey and Adams. "They tell me they want to use it for an office building," Decatur said.

Include pasta in party plans

What can you do to get in all the party fun and still have dinner on the table?

One solution is pasta, happily a quick-cooking but filling main dish that takes to many treatments. Including sauces that freeze well.

Matched with antipasto (most of which can sit on the pantry shelf until you need it), some bread (also frozen) and wine, you have a quick dinner that still keeps everybody happy.

The recipes for the dishes in the picture serve 12, and will double to serve 24. The sauces just get better as leftovers, as flavors mellow and blend. Make the Caponata three or four days in advance and have it on hand for serving on crackers or with pita bread.

For a party, figure about 1/4 pound of pasta per person. Cook it "al dente," or until it's tender, but still has some firmness when you bite a test strand. Use a little oil in the cooking water and the pasta won't stick in a gummy mass. (Also, oil helps keep the pasta from boiling over.)

CAPONATA
1 lb. eggplant, peeled and cut into 1/2-inch cubes
2 tbsps. salt
8 tbsps. olive oil, divided
1 cup chopped celery
1/2 cup chopped onion
3 tbsps. red wine vinegar
1 tsp. sugar
16-oz. can whole tomatoes, drained and chopped
1/4 cup coarsely ground black pepper

In a colander, sprinkle eggplant with salt. Set aside to drain for 30 minutes.

In a large skillet, heat 3 tablespoons oil over medium heat. Add chopped celery and onion and cook 15 minutes, stirring frequently. Remove from pan; add remaining oil and drained eggplant to pan. Cook, stirring constantly, for 5 minutes, until lightly browned. Add celery mixture, vinegar, sugar, tomatoes, olives and pepper. Simmer mixture, uncovered, stirring frequently for 15 minutes. Refrigerate. Serve chilled. Makes 4 cups.

SAUSAGE
TOMATO SAUCE
1 1/2 cups chopped onion
3 cloves garlic, crushed
1/4 cup olive oil
2 cans (1 lb. 12 ozs. each) whole tomatoes, crushed
3 cans (8 ozs. each) tomato paste
1 cup water
1 tbsps. salt
2 tbsps. basil leaves
1 bay leaf
1 tsp. sugar
1/4 tsp. coarsely ground black pepper
4 lbs. sweet Italian sausages

In a large saucepan, cook onions and garlic in oil over medium heat until onions are translucent. Stir in remaining ingredients, except sweet Italian sausages. Simmer over low heat 3 hours.

Preheat oven to 375 degrees. Bake sausages for 45 minutes, turning twice, until browned. Slice sausages diagonally in 1-inch slices. Add to sauce and simmer 1 hour longer. Serve over pasta.

This is an uncooked sauce with a fresh, spinach flavor. It's a variation of traditional Pesto, which uses basil leaves.

SPINACH
PESTO SAUCE
3 cups fresh spinach leaves
2 cups fresh parsley sprigs
1/2 cup grated parmesan cheese

1/2 cup grated Romano cheese
2 tbsps. pine nuts (also called pignolia)
1/4 cup blanched almonds
2 cloves garlic, crushed
1/4 cup butter, melted
1/2 cup olive oil
One-third cup hot water

from pasta
In a blender container, place all ingredients except hot water. Puree to a smooth paste. Cook pasta; stir one-third cup of the cooking water into the pesto sauce. Serve sauce with hot pasta.

Arrest in Kirkpatrick

Harry W. Painter, 21, of 3006 Kirkpatrick Homes, was charged with resisting arrest, disorderly conduct and two counts of aggravated battery after he allegedly struck two police officers during a disturbance at his home at 2:55 a.m. Wednesday.

Granite City ambulance attendants were called to the home on a report of an ill woman and said that when they arrived, Painter refused to allow them near the woman.

Police entered the home and Patrolman J. W. Apperson alleged Painter pushed him and then slapped him. Apperson turned him toward two other officers to clear the way for the ambulance attendants and Patrolman Terry May alleged he was struck on the face with a fist. Painter was taken outside where he allegedly resisted arrest and tried to strike the officers again. Force was used to handcuff him and he was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital for sutures to a cut on his head.

He was released to police.

The cost includes free beer, setups and dancing to the music of the Country Styles Band, a five-piece group that plays all types of music, Mrs. Townsend said.

A smorgasbord dinner will precede the dance at 6 p.m., but the dinner ticket deadline has already passed and only dance tickets remain, the chairman said.

Originally the benefit event was arranged to aid Mr. Westwood, an active citizens band radio operator and member of the Flipperials CB Club.

The Lighter Side

Quitting smoking is easy; I've done it lots of times

As I light up my millionth cigarette, I hear that little voice again. It is saying, "Quit; smoking is an obnoxious habit."

With the new year approaching, I have just about decided that 1979 is going to be the year. My New Year's resolution will be to get rid of my nasty smoking habit, for good this time. The first thing I will have to do is stock up on gum, hard candy and suckers. The last time I quit, the suckers helped, or rather the sticks helped.

Those sticks made a great substitute for the cigarettes. I could chew away on the stick and almost forget how desperately I wanted a smoke.

I have "quit" smoking many times, the first time being when, at 16, I wanted to be on the high school swimming team. The coach was definitely against smoking.

What determination I had then. I just stopped picking them up. I have often wondered whatever happened to that youthful gutsiness.

I did indeed quit cigarettes for quite some time. Then I made the same mistake that most ex-smokers make. I picked up a cigarette, wondering what the great attraction had been. I couldn't remember, so I lit it, took a few drags, and coughed my head off.

The coughing must have been the attraction, because it wasn't long before I was puffing away like a freight train again.

I have quit many times since then, for four or five days at a time. I have always managed to come up with a reason to resume the habit.

My nerves have always been a great excuse for NOT quitting or for starting back up again after having stopped. My husband says that my whole personality changes drastically whenever I try to put down the rolled wonders.

Whenever he has insisted that I quit, I have failed. I have used the "quitting makes me too nervous" routine to get him to say, "I can't stand you like this; go ahead and smoke."

I have gotten the idea of putting down my cigarettes on my own this time. Few of the people I work with smoke and I have forced them into the "smokers" section of restaurants too many times. I have, in the past, resisted all efforts of friends and the surgeon general's warnings. Now I have found some reasons that I feel are good enough.

I am tired of smelling like cigarette smoke. I am tired of the wheezing noise in my chest, although I wonder if I will miss the gurgling noise that accompanies my every breath.

I won't miss the coughing that lets everyone know exactly where I am, the waking up in the morning barely able to breathe, or the difficulty doing anything that requires stamina. No, I cannot say that I will miss any of that.

But I will miss my cigarettes. They have always been a great comfort to me, especially in times of stress. Non-smokers can't understand that weakness in us smokers. The small tobacco-filled wand makes a terrific crutch. Smoking has helped me keep from acting crazy at times.

I am, however, beginning to realize that all of my excuses for continuing to fry my lungs are not nearly as valid as the reasons for putting my cigarettes down. I WILL quit in '79. I have good reasons and I will master the self-discipline, somehow.

I am determined not to fail, since I have no desire to pay the price of failure again.

So, if you see me out and about with a sucker stick in my mouth, you will know that I am fighting a mighty battle. I intend to win, for my sake.

But then again, I have a few days yet, before resolution time. What the heck, I think I will just sit back here and enjoy cigarette one million and one.

Raid tavern; seize chance tab slips

Granite City police obtained a search warrant and raided the Nineteenth Hole Tavern, 2401 Washington Ave., at 2:45 p.m. Friday, seizing "Nevada Chance Tabs," allegedly used for gambling.

The barmaid, Judy Fennessy, 37, of 15 Fairway Estates, Arlington Heights, was charged with gambling and was released on $35 cash bond.

Granite City detectives said they had received several complaints about gambling tabs at the tavern and enlisted the aid of an undercover agent from the Metropolitan Enforcement Group of Southwestern Illinois (MEGSI).

The agent entered the tavern at 1:30 p.m. Friday, under police surveillance, and purchased $5 worth of betting tabs, using a marked $20 bill, police reported. He marked some of the tabs before returning them to the barmaid, officers alleged.

The agent then left the tavern and detectives applied to Circuit Judge William L. Beatty for a search warrant, which was granted.

Officers alleged finding a full box of Nevada Chance Tabs, a partial box of the tabs and several loose and used tabs, including those marked by the agent, police alleged.

$600 TOOLS STOLEN

A black tool box, containing $600 worth of tools, was stolen from the trunk of an auto owned by Magnus Leisner, 2816 Marshall Ave., parked outside his home this week.

Acts 9:6... "And he trembled and astonished said: Lord, what wilt thou have me to do?"

Saul of Tarsus, whom we now know as the Apostle Paul, just had his life turned around. He was on his way to Damascus to persecute Christians when God revealed himself to Saul. This was a dramatic conversion to Christ. Saul was never the same again. Those people he once hated, he now loved.

A new year is at hand. By considering what our lives have been for the past twelve months, we may see a need to turn ourselves around. Resolutions and good intentions sometimes work, mostly, they don't. The reason being, we try to make major changes without a higher power. We are simply too weak to carry our plans to fulfillment.

Why not turn your life over to God? Let him make the change for you. Let him direct your desires and intentions. It can be as simple as Paul's statement, "Lord, what wilt thou have me to do?" Ask him now.

Your New Year starts... Today.

Treatment training

SUE will offer five training courses during the winter quarter for water supply and wastewater treatment plant operators or supervisors through its Environmental Resources Training Center.

The evening classes, aimed at first-line supervisors and operators of potable water supply and wastewater treatment facilities, offer credit toward the certification program administered by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency.

James O. Bryant (692-2030), director of ERTC, said the winter classes will concentrate on operation, maintenance and record keeping of both wastewater and potable water supply plants - plus bacteriological sampling and analysis, specialized mathematics, and supervision.

The ERTC schedule includes: Potable Water Supply Operations II (PWS 102, Tuesday, 6:30-9:20 p.m.) for 3.3 continuing education units (CEU) of credit, beginning Jan. 2. Prerequisites are PWS 101 or permission of the instructor. The textbook, which is also used in PWS 101 and PWS 103, is $20.

Wastewater Treatment Operations II (WW 102, Wednesday, 6:30-9:20 p.m.) for 3.3 CEU, beginning Jan. 3. Prerequisites are WW 101 or permission. Text is $10. Process Control Laboratory II (WW-PWS 106, Thursday, 5:30-9:20 p.m.) for 4.4 CEU, beginning Jan. 4. Prerequisites are WW-PWS 105 or permission.

Math for Water Supply and Wastewater Operators (WW-PWS 100, Monday, 6:30-9:20 p.m.) for 2.7 CEU, beginning Jan. 8.

Supervision and Management (WW-PWS 210, Monday, 6:30-9:20 p.m.) for 2.7 CEU, beginning Jan. 8. Textbook is $30.

Tuition for all five classes, which continue through the second week in March, is $87 and payable at the first class meeting in cash or check, or by purchase order from the employer. Textbooks must be purchased separately.

Winter swimming classes

Winter instructional swim classes will begin at the Tri-City Area YMCA on Tuesday, Jan. 2. The "Y" offers trained instruction for beginners and advanced skills, and for all ages from six months old to senior citizens.

The program features a low student-instructor ratio, experienced instruction, parent-child classes and use of "the bubble" for pre-schoolers.

The bubble, a unique instructional aid, enables the child to gain confidence in the water and overcome initial fear of the water.

Air pressure in the bubble is decreased as lessons progress, so the child unknowingly starts depending less and less on the bubble.

Classes are offered for 45 minutes on a twice weekly basis on either Tuesdays and Thursdays or Mondays and Wednesdays. Each session runs for four weeks. Fees are $10 for non-members and $2 for members per session. Classes are held in the morning, afternoon and evening.

1978—a year of change and progress at university

Highlights of 1978 at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville included the following.

Administrative Changes: Administrative changes in 1978 included appointments of deans and other academic officers. Joining SUIU was Dr. James A. Buck, executive assistant to the president, beginning Aug. 1. Dr. Buck assumed many of the duties of Dr. Ralph W. Ruffner, senior vice president, who retired.

Other appointments included: Dr. Earl S. Beard, assistant vice president for academic personnel administration, approved Oct. 17, and Dr. Emil F. Jason, associate vice president for special programs and minority affairs in the Office of the Vice President and Provost, approved Nov. 1.

Newly appointed deans are

Dr. Henry M. Cherrick, School of Dental Medicine, effective Sept. 1, and Dr. Thomas P. Anderson, School of Science and Technology, July 1.

Approved By SUIU Board of Trustees: Programs and funding requests for the bachelor of science degree in accounting and in construction, a certificate program in family practice residency, the master of science degree in engineering, and the specialty certificate in pediatrics were approved as part of the Resource Allocation and Management Program (RAMP) for consideration by the Illinois Board of Higher Education. The Board also approved specializations in clinical adult psychology and in community school psychology as extensions of the existing master's program in psychology.

Off-campus programs and non-credit courses are expected to expand under a Board-approved plan authorizing instructional fees for the courses on a cost-recovery basis.

Capital Projects, Construction And Planning: President Kenneth Shaw announced his intention to recommend the School of Dental Medicine be continued at Alton, based on a study comparing the cost, the academic program and the community viability at the Alton site compared with a proposed Edwardsville campus location.

Other plans were approved for a $100,000 project to install high intensity lights in existing fixtures in the fan parking lots at Edwardsville and noninstructional capital projects totaling $1.7 million for fiscal year 1980, including $1 million for renovation of the University Center.

The state approved $641,000 in planning funds for the multi-purpose physical education building at the Edwardsville campus and allowed the University to reallocate $315,000 to complete purchase of the East St. Louis Center building.

The Capital Development Board awarded a $608,000 contract for construction of a tertiary treatment facility at Edwardsville and a $161,000 contract to redesign the exhaust system in the Science Building.

Major Events: The University hosted several major conferences during the year aimed at helping area communities solve their problems. A "Meet the Mayors" conference gave students an opportunity to meet with mayors and other outstanding officials from around the nation to discuss problems confronting cities.

Women policymakers in local government focused on women serving as effective legislators and policymakers. A public affairs forum titled "Private-Public Redevelopment: How Decisions Are Made" brought together nationally-known planners, officials and developers and featured field trips to several projects in the Greater St. Louis area.

Prominent visitors to the campus included economist Peter Drucker and Ambassador Andre Jean Coulbary, who received honorary degrees at the June commencement exercises.

Gov. James Thompson, who signed legislation appropriating planning funds for a multi-purpose building; consumer advocate Ralph Nader; actress Jane Fonda; and poetess Nikki Giovanni.

The Presidential Scholars Program was launched, with the selection of 20 outstanding high school graduates from the area who will receive four-year scholarships as well as special academic status and individualized educational opportunities.

The university's academic excellence also was enhanced by participation in the College Bowl competition. SUIU's winning team will advance to the Midwest regional in February.

More than 2,000 area senior citizens attended the Senior Fair on campus in March. The "Very Special Arts Festival" in October attracted 900 handicapped children and 300 adults for two days of workshops and special education program planning.

The Katherine Dunham Dancers from the Performing Arts Training Center were filmed for a special half-hour program on National Public Television in July.

Through the University's new Educare Program, area residents may attend classes on a non-credit, space-available basis without being formally admitted to the University.

New Degree Programs Approved By Illinois Board Of Higher Education: —Bachelor of Science with a major in construction.

—Bachelor of Science with a major in earth science.

The IBHE also approved a new unit, the Academic Resource Center, and mandated new guidelines for the respective roles of SUIU and State Community College in East St. Louis.

The new guidelines mean a shift of responsibility for lower-division baccalaureate activities from the University to the community college, while SUIU is being encouraged to become a center of research and publication of findings in the area of remedial and developmental problems in addition to providing third, fourth and fifth-year programs in the East St. Louis Center.

Research: Fiscal Year 1978 was a record year at SUIU for outside of university research and projects. Grants for research, training, institutional and student support totaled $6,275,489, an increase of $646,396 over Fiscal Year 1977. According to the Office of Research and Projects, external funds have more than doubled in the past three years.

The 132 extramural grants and contracts awarded to the university this year represent an 11 percent increase over FY 1977. Student support increased by $378,949 (13.1 percent) and institutional support by $725,377 (24.2 percent).

Educational Television: With no capital funding and an operating budget of only $50,000, less than one-fifth of the amount requested, Southwestern Illinois Public Television Corporation (SIPTC) is restricting its activities to development work, including purchases of equipment and program production aimed at public understanding of the potential role of educational television.

Without capital funding for a broadcast tower and related facilities, Channel 18 cannot become operational by December 1980 as originally projected.

Enrollment: Student enrollment for fall quarter at SUIU totaled 2,233, including an estimated 900 students in off-campus credit programs and another 1,720 students enrolled in non-credit continuing education courses.

The on-campus credit enrollment was 10,633, representing a 4.7 percent decrease from last year's on-campus enrollment of 11,162.

University officers said the decrease in enrollment is due in large part to tightening of academic standards, housing shortages in the area and the declining number of students eligible for veterans educational benefits.

Sports Highlights: Tennis: Juan Parrow won the NCAA Division II national singles championship at San Diego, Calif., to repeat as champion. He had won the year before as a freshman.

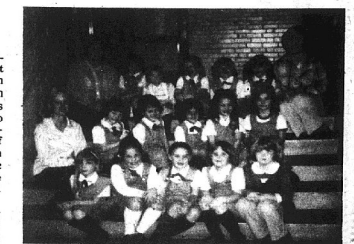

Then the St. Louis native (by way of Virginia) and his teammates went on to win the NCAA Division II national tennis team championship. It was SUIU's second national championship since the University had qualified for NCAA postseason competition in 1969.

The first was the soccer team's national crown in 1972, in Division II play.

Soccer: SUIU lost to the University of Indiana, 2-0, in the Midwest NCAA Division I regional tournament at Bloomington, Ind.

The Hoosiers then advanced to the finals before bowing to the Dons of the University of San Francisco, 2-0, at Tampa in early December. Indiana, incidentally, was the only team to beat the Dons (early in the season) in 1976.

New Coaches Named: Baseball: Garret (Bo) Collins was named to replace the veteran Roy E. Lee, who retired from the coaching

Hits tree, signs on Madison Avenue

An auto being driven north on Madison Avenue during the weekend by Keith E. Esley, 19, of 2612 National Ave., reportedly crossed the southbound lanes, jumped the curb and struck a tree and two traffic signs in the 2900 block of Madison Avenue.

The vehicle then continued on through the front yard at the home of Robert Russell, 2981 Madison Ave.

Esley was charged with reckless driving, illegal transportation of alcohol and injury to city property, after officers allegedly discovered an open bottle of liquor in the vehicle.

On recruiting duty here

Private John Chrisos of Collinsville has an Army assignment not far from home. For the next 30 days, he will work as a recruiter aide at the Army Recruiting Station, 3675 Nameoki Road, Granite City, where he enlisted.

Pvt. Chrisos will assist Staff Sergeant John Keene, who signed him up, and Sergeant First Class Donna Bramley. His primary duty as a recruiter aide is to link the Army recruiters in Granite City with the young people of the area. He will talk about his Army experiences with interested seniors at area high schools, including Collinsville High School, where he graduated earlier this year.

Why did Pvt. Chrisos join the Army? "The Army offers great benefits," he explains. "I enjoy being in the Army. Everyone should have the chance I have as a member of the Army." Pvt. Chrisos plans to make the Army his career.

Pvt. Chrisos enlisted one month before he left for basic training. He signed up under the provisions of the Army's Delayed Entry Program, which lets a recruit begin duty up to 12 months after enlisting, while earning credit for time in service for pay and assignment considerations from the original date of enlistment. The Delayed Entry Program lets a high school senior reserve the skill training of his or her choice while still in school.

The recruiter aide undertook basic training at Fort Jackson, S.C., and advanced individual training at Fort Lee, Va. He trained as a material supplyman, and will serve at Fort Campbell, Ky., after he completes his Granite City assignment. Pvt. Chrisos chose his skill training, and was guaranteed it in writing by the Army when he enlisted.

It was during advanced individual training that Pvt. Chrisos was approved for recruiter aide duty. The program is highly competitive, and selection reflects outstanding ability.

Pvt. Chrisos is at the

PVT. JOHN CHRISOS

Granite City Army Recruiting Station to talk with interested young people about his experiences as a recent Army enlistee. He and the recruiters will discuss the skill training, educational aid, travel options, and other benefits the Army offers. Quad-Cityans may call at (318) 876-5850. Out of town residents may call collect.

Two given jail terms

Two young men who pleaded guilty to a Sept. 17 burglary in Granite City have been sentenced to serve probation and terms in the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville.

Circuit Judge Horace Calvo sentenced Clint Wade, 17, of 108 Kirkpatrick Homes, to serve 60 days in jail and two years of probation and Richard Cigelski, 21, of 508 Kirkpatrick Homes, was sentenced to serve 90 days in jail with two years of probation.

The two pleaded guilty to breaking into the home of Michael Weber, 2543 E. 28th St., during which about $100 in change, 20 trading stamp books worth $60 and a $15 stethoscope were taken.

Venice dunks 'Hounds; walks on Coulterville

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor

FREEBURG — It's only going into the third round today, but two very important things have already been decided in the Freeburg Holiday Basketball Tournament.

Lebanon will NOT win its third straight championship and Venice might just win its tenth title (first since 1975).

Tuesday, Venice took a lead two minutes before the half-time, widened it to as much as 13 points and held its breath for a 73-72 shocker over second-seeded Lebanon.

The Red Devils noticed their first victory in the process.

Last night Venice led from start to finish and advanced with a 65-57 victory over out-manned Coulterville.

VENICE-LEBANON
It was free throw shooting that put Venice in control during the Lebanon game. The Devils hit 27 out of 36 from the charity stripe.

But according to Venice head coach Ken Perkins, it was defense, not putting points on the board, that counted heavily toward his team's first win. "We played excellent defense," he said.

"I thought Donald Gardner did a whale of a job on Shelby Brooks."

Brooks still managed 29 points, but they didn't come easy, and according to Perkins there are other things to do when defending a player than just keeping him from scoring. "Donald kept

Madison wins, North falls at Mater Dei

Brooks from doing the kinds of things he likes to do," he said. "Sure, he got his points, but his game was still thrown off."

Venice fans had a pleasant holiday surprise to enjoy Tuesday when Ken Perkins' Red Devils rebounded their way to a 73-72 upset win over second-seeded Lebanon, which had won the tournament for the past two years.

Trailing 27-22 after the first quarter, Venice players fine-tuned their marksmanship in the second period and ahead 48-40, doubling their lead in that quarter.

It was still Venice by 61-54 as the fourth period began and Lebanon then tried to nibble away at the Devils' lead, paring it to one point in the closing seconds.

Donald Gardner, high scorer for Venice with 25 points, meshed two consecutive free throws for a three-point lead with four seconds remaining, after a series of Red Devil misses on one-and-one opportunities.

Lebanon brought the ball down the floor without close guarding by Venice and scored an insufficient field goal at the final buzzer.

Stars along with Gardner included Reggie Matkins, 12 points and 15 rebounds, and Terry Arnold, 14 and 14.

James Matkins added 14 points, Ricky Jones six and Derek Mathis, two.

Venice hit 23 field goals with 52 percent accuracy, and netted 27 of 36 free throws.

The Devils committed only 11 fouls to the enemy's 23, and Lebanon had to be content with four free throws to go with its 34 two-pointers.

The story of the game was Venice taking Lebanon's style of game to the Greyhounds and rubbing their noses in it like a puppy who's done something naughty on the carpet. In the second half, for instance, Venice actually took advantage of Lebanon's tough man-to-man defense and drove the lane effectively.

"We started out shooting late," said Perkins.

"But Gardner came up with two very important ones at the very last," said Perkins.

Those two came with four seconds left in the game and Venice ahead by only 71-70.

Brooks had just missed a slam-dunk attempt and Gardner was fouled in the process. Gardner coolly swished both ends of the one-and-one. Brooks drove through a relaxed Venice defense for a layup as time expired.

VENICE-COULTERVILLE
Last night, Venice continued its trek toward that tenth championship by dominating an out-named Coulterville squad 65-57.

The Devils broke open a relatively close game midway through the first quarter and had a 36-25 lead at half-time. They had led just 16-13 after the first stop.

But in the third quarter, things started going all Venice's way. By the end of that stanza, the Devils had built themselves a 17 point lead. Then Perkins decided to rest his starters in favor of his junior varsity squad. "I felt our JV players could play evenly with Coulterville's starters and thought they needed the experience."

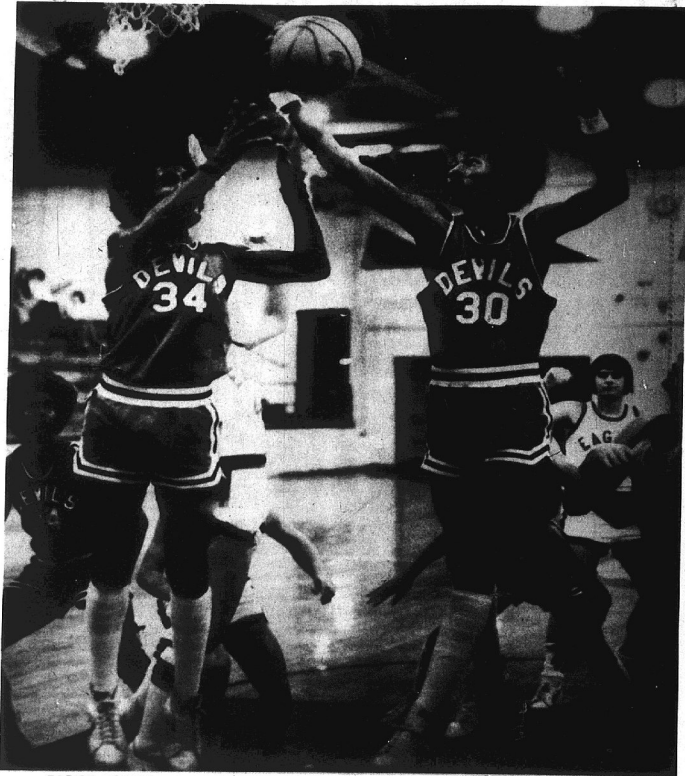

But that was a wrong move. Coulterville took no heed if Perkins' thoughts and proceeded to chip away at the Devils' lead until it was a mere seven points with about three minutes left.

Time to put the starters back in... and in a hurry. "Our defense wasn't too hot," said Perkins. "Of course, I'm sure we had a mental letdown after beating Lebanon, in fact I warned our team against it."

"But something like that is inevitable."

Then Perkins reversed his lead and said his team would have to play better if it wants to win the tournament. "It's too far down the road now to play like we did tonight any more and win this thing," he said. "I'm not worried about fourth or third place, either."

RICKY JONES (30) of Venice and teammate Donald Gardner (34) both go up for a rebound last night during the Red Devils' 65-57 victory over Coulterville during the second round of the Freeburg-Columbia Holiday Tournament in Freeburg. Jones scored 12 points and Gardner added eight as Venice scored its second victory in as many tournament games. The Devils play Chester tonight at 7 in the third round.

South dumps Lovejoy, 65-50

By DOUG IRVIN
for the Press-Record

WOOD RIVER — The Red dies at four—South finally won one, 65-50 over the Wildcats of Lovejoy in the opening round of the Wood River Holiday Basketball Tournament yesterday afternoon. The Warriors record is 4-4.

"Anytime you break a losing streak you got to be happy," said Coach Don Perkins, as his squad evened his record at four. "We have a reputation of playing good defense—we didn't do our best today in that aspect of the game—but we did alright."

"We tried to shut Watson (Eric) off and we did a pretty good job of it. He went out with only 12 points." Last week, Watson scored 36 points against Castro and last year he scored 24 against the Madison Trojans.

South held the lead from the first whistle to the last buzzer. The Warriors' Jeff Vaughn stole a Wildcat ball and drove it all the way in for a two-point lay-up and drew first blood of the tournament. It was only last week when this team was missing that particular shot—a lay-up.

With two more buckets within five feet, and a couple from the field, South took a 15-10 first quarter lead.

Jeff Parker took his turn in the second phase of the game. Parker made six of his 18 points in the second eight-minute period which sided the Warriors and gave them a 33-26 halftime lead.

During halftime one had to think, would Granite keep their lead and add to it to win? Or, would it be a repeat of earlier games and blow their locker-room lead and lose the battle?

The Warriors kept their lead, they added to it, and they won, surprised?

Another lay-up was made this one by Parker early in the third quarter. Then Parker hit one from five feet out from the base line left. Then, Lee Heubner hit on a 15-foot jumper, then Parker again, Jamie Blasingame hit from ten feet, and the club lost four straight?

BUT, even though Lovejoy was down by nine entering the final period of play, they were not to be taken for granted. The Wildcats battled to within three, 53-50.

Now this is one for books, out.

The next two buckets were scored by Blasingame and Heubner to increase the deficit to seven, 57-50. A charging foul was called against Lovejoy which gave the Warriors possession with 2:27 left in the game.

Ever hear of "the stall"? Well here is when it is used.

South Tournament set to begin today

GRANITE CITY — Granite City High School South will hope to repeat as champions of the 18th annual Granite City Holiday Wrestling Tournament, as it gets underway today at 12 p.m. in Memorial Gym at South.

The 16-team affair was won by the Warriors last season and they have two returning meet champions, they hope will lead the way this time. Sam Perkins (state runner-up last season) and Barry Forshee lead the way. Perkins wrestles at 138 pounds and Forshee at 128. South along with Pekin, River Gardens (Mo.) and GCHS North are given the best shots at overall team scoring. South has won the tournament four years in a row.

In addition to Forshee and Perkins, South has returning from last season's champs Don King and Dean Perkins (Sam's brother). King wrestles at 185 (after being a heavyweight last season) and Perkins weighs in at 132.

North returns Bob Kirgan who finished fourth last season at 105 pounds.

Lost to graduation is three-time tourney champ Kris Whelan.

The tournament's first session got underway today at noon, with the evening session slated for 7 p.m. All qualifying bouts will be held today.

Tomorrow, the first session will again start at noon, while the evening session is scheduled for 6 p.m. All semifinal bouts will be completed in the first session Friday with the evening session devoted to championship matches.

Trojans 'compensate' with win over Central

HEY, WAIT A MINUTE THERE. Madison's Kenny Stanley (12) seems a bit surprised here as Breese Central's Eric Waterman gets a hand on the ball yesterday morning during the Trojans' first-round victory over the Cougars in the 19th annual Breese Mater Dei Christmas Tournament. Madison exploded early and coasted to the victory. The Trojans were to have faced East St. Louis Assumption today at 1 p.m. in the tourney's second round. It will be the final Mater Dei tournament for Madison, the Trojans having been asked not to come back next season (see related story). (Press-Record Photo by Pete Hayes)

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor

BRESE — It wasn't exactly picturesque, but Larry Graham will take it. The Madison High Trojans of Coach Graham exploded early here yesterday morning, coasted along until the beginning of the second half when they exploded again and coasted to an 81-59 victory over an over-matched Breese Central team in the opening game of the Breese Mater Dei Christmas Tournament.

The victory means that the third-seeded Trojans were to have played East St. Louis Assumption today at 1 p.m. in the second round. Yesterday's Madison victory was sparked by what has become one of the most well-balanced scoring attacks in the state among Class A (small school) ranks.

The Trojans placed six players in double figures and were led in the attack by three players — all with 14 points each.

The three were Maurice Hughes, Kenny Stanley and Ricky Powers. "We're going to be well-balanced all season," said Graham. "That's sort of been a trademark of our teams through the years."

One player who won't be contributing at all to that balanced scoring attack is all-state guard James Heard, out for the duration of the tournament because of a three-day suspension from school because of a fight last week at MHS. How will the Trojans compensate for the absence of Heard?

"You can't replace a player like Heard," said Graham. "We just have to go with the players we have and do our best."

"The loss of Heard hasn't hurt us very much in the two games we've played without him. But we haven't really been tested by tough competition."

That tough competition will come in exactly one day . . . if all goes according to plan at Mater Dei's tourney.

If Madison was able to get by Assumption (first round conquerors of Highland) today, they probably will play defending state champion (Class A) Nashville tomorrow (Friday) night at 8 o'clock in the semifinals. Nashville opened its Mater Dei play against Waterloo Senior yesterday afternoon with a victory.

Yesterday against Central, Madison looked like a world-beater early, blowing the Cougars out with a first quarter spurt that saw them claim a 26-12 lead after the stop. But the Trojans began to slow a bit and allowed the Cougars to creep back to within eight points (40-24) with two minutes remaining in the first half.

"We couldn't play well consistently," said Graham. "We played well at the beginning of the game, at the beginning of the second half and just kind of rolled along the rest of the time."

After trailing 43-29 at halftime, Central found itself trailing Madison 50-31 just moments into the second half. It was that second burst from the Trojans that did the trick.

"Central's not a bad team," said Graham. "They took advantage of some turnovers we committed and made a close game out there in the early part of the fourth quarter."

What Graham was talking about came with about five minutes left in the game. Central, which had trailed 61-44 just moments earlier, scored on a basket by Mark Weinheimer, a 6'2" forward and had suddenly moved back to within 65-56.

Then the Trojans started to apply the pressure and has won so many close games for them in the past and turned what had been a close contest into laughter.

First a steal by Trojan Carlyn Jackson and a layup. Then another steal, this one by Tyrone Echols. He was fouled and sank both ends of a one-and-one situation. Yet another turnover . . . then a subsequent basket by Ricky Powers from about ten feet out. Presto-change, just as quick as you can bat an eyelash, Madison was ahead 73-56.

What about height disadvantage? Central's tallest player is 6'4" Steiker. Madison's is 6'2" Eric Stanley.

To be quite honest, Madison had the height advantage. Even though out-inched by a couple, the Trojans used their extraordinary jumping ability to snare rebounds and dominate the boards.

"This could be our best jumping team ever," said Graham. "The only team that could come close would have been our team of ten years ago."

That group featured such long-forgotten names as Oscar Hughes and Ed Chandler. "The only difference between this team and that one," said Graham, "is that this one can do something BESIDES jump."

The Madison substitutes didn't see quite as much action as they might have hoped going into the game. Graham didn't empty his bench until about a minute remained in the game.

"I was not sure of anything until we had that last spurt," he said. "Then I figured we had it about locked up."

If Madison does face Nashville Friday in the semi's, it'll be a rematch of last year's championship tilt. Going into that one, Nashville was seeded first and Madison second. But this year, Chatham-Glenwood is the top-seed, Nashville is second and Madison third. Do the seedings surprise Graham?

"Yes, they do," he said. "I was surprised last year when Nashville was seeded ahead of us, even though we were the defending state champion. This year, I thought we'd be seeded second behind Nashville, since they are the defending champs."

Steelers 'rocketed' by fired-up Okawville

By KEVIN ALLEN of the Press-Record

BRESE — Granite City North fell on the losers side of the competition bracket at the Mater Dei Holiday tournament last night with a 72-48 loss to the Okawville Rockets.

The Steelers aren't finished in the tournament, however, because it is a double-elimination set-up. They were to have met Sparta today at 4 p.m.

Last night, the Steelers faced an old problem that has plagued them throughout this season, they couldn't find the basket. "They put the ball in the hole and we didn't," said North Coach Bill Ohlendorf. "We've not been putting it in all season."

The Steelers were also plagued by the Rocket's ability to hit from both inside and outside. Okawville's center, Mike Sine led both teams in scoring with 21 points. He was nearly matched by his teammate, Bill Leadendecker, a 5'8" guard, who put in 19 points of his own. Most of these were long arching shots from 20 to 30 feet out, although at times even he managed to drive inside.

North began the game looking like an even match for the Rockets. With less than three minutes left in the first quarter, the teams were even at eight apiece.

Then suddenly the Steelers scoring attack went flat. They could manage only two scoring points in the remainder of the period, while Okawville put in ten, to take a 18-10 lead.

As the game wore on, North's scoring slump grew more severe and the Steeler defense couldn't stay with the Rocket's hot hands. The result was a rapidly mounting Okawville lead. At the half the Steeler's found themselves down by 12.

North had a chance to stage a comeback during the beginning of the third period. The Rockets were missing shots that earlier in the game were going in.

North, down by about fifteen at the time, could have cut into the deficit if they could have found the handle with shots that were dancing around the rim. But the Steelers kept on missing.

Okawville quickly got back on track, and it was too late. The Rockets went on to take a 22 point lead at the opening of the final period.

"This rates as one of the lowest points of the year," said Ohlendorf. "But we haven't fallen off the end of the world. We could still finish the tournament with a three and one record."

The low point of the game came in the final quarter. North's scoring slump hit rock bottom. The Steelers could score only four points in the first six minutes of the period. At that time, Okawville held a 32 point edge, the largest of the evening. Even though the Rockets had replaced their big scorers, Leadendecker and Stine, early in the period, they still scored 14 points to North's 10, and wound up with a 72-46 victory.

Fortunately for the Steelers the nature of the double-elimination tournament allows losers little time to dwell on their mistakes. The Steelers will come back to face the Sparta Bulldogs, who are also fresh from a defeat at the hands of Chatham-Glenwood.

Ohlendorf expects better results this time out. "We can play with them," he said. "We can score. Things are not out of reach."

on track, and it was too late. The Rockets went on to take a 22 point lead at the opening of the final period.

Stepoe to seek Madison grid job

MADISON — Madison High School head track coach and counselor, Charles Stepoe, has applied for the job of head football coach at MHS. Stepoe, who filled in as an assistant coach during the past season during the final five games, will seek to fill the vacancy created when Head Coach Nick Jakich resigned last month.

Stepoe's application was made in the form of a letter to the Madison Board of Education which was received at its regular meeting last Thursday (Dec. 21). The letter "expressed interest in an opening for football coach at the school." No immediate action was taken.

Madison not invited to '79 M.D. Tourney

BRESE — Win, lose or draw, this year will mark the final time Madison High School participates in the Brese Mater Dei Christmas Tournament. According to Madison Coach Larry Graham, his team has been notified that it will not be invited back to next year's tournament. The reasons for the dismissal from tourney play are not fully known at this time. According to Graham, Mater Dei Athletic Director Mike Nobis made the decision not to invite Madison back. The Trojans are the only team to win four titles in the tournament, having won championships in 1966, 1967, 1976 and 1977. The Trojans finished third in 1965. They have a 20-2 won-lost record in the tournament. Nobis could not be reached for comment.

Schocker to Taiwan (maybe)

JACKSONVILLE, Ill. Granite City North graduate Tom Schocker (76), a junior basketball player at MacMurray College here is among members of the team selected to make a California-Hawaii-Taiwan trip next month. Schocker, a 6'5" forward, will be among those going to California to play the University of California-Irvine, California State-Fullerton, Chaminade University, Brigham Young University and an eight-game series with a group of Chinese all-stars in Taiwan.

However, because of the current strained U.S.-Taiwan relations and attacks on U.S. citizens there, a decision will be made once the team is in California as to whether it will continue on to Taiwan. According to Schocker, there is also a possibility that a trip to Hong Kong might be made.

The trip will be from Jan. 2 through Jan. 24. Schocker is averaging nine points and nine rebounds this season as a spot-starter at MacMurray. He might best be remembered for on single shot he made during his high school career. While a junior at GCHS North (1974-75), Schocker was put into the Regional Championship game at Collinsville against the Kahoks with nine seconds left and the Steelers trailing by one point. He put up a last-second shot that won the game, beating Collinsville 49-48. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Schocker of Granite City.

Comph! The 1980 Olympics is the goal of weightlifting coach Halsey Miller

By DEBRA L. JEN-NEMANN

For the Press-Record
EDWARDSVILLE — Coaching a championship weightlifting club takes extreme dedication and hard work, but when you're aiming for the top, like Halsey Miller, you're willing to put forth that effort.

The top is the 1980 Olympics, and Halsey Miller, professor in the department of earth science at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, is coaching his weightlifting club, the Spartans, toward an Olympic Gold Medal.

"I'm aiming for the top because why should you set short-sighted goals," he said from his office in Classroom Building II on the SIUE campus.

The Spartan Weightlifting Club, formally called Sportsplex, was established several years ago by Dave McGowan, still a club member.

At that time there were only six members. Miller, who was the state heavyweight weightlifting champion of Arizona in the late 1950s, became acquainted with the club two years ago. He had been away from weightlifting for many years because of doctor's orders and decided to return.

The Spartans have proved to have a successful coach in Miller. As a member club of the Amateur Athletic Union (AAU), the Spartans have won many area and regional championships, including the recent Mid-American Weightlifting Championships in Chicago.

"We've taken the Missouri-Ozark Association AAU Championships, the Region 3 (five midwest states) Championship and the Olivette (Missouri) Open. Now we've won the Mid-America Open Championship which has been the toughest meet so far," he said.

"That's where we really showed our guns because we were competing against six national champions and a Canadian national champion and still won."

Miller feels the reason the Spartans have been winning is because the club consists mostly of young people, ages 13 to 35, who have been competing in the lighter weight divisions. He expects the light weight divisions have fewer competitors.

"We're developing new people," he said, explaining that other clubs rely heavily on veteran weightlifters who are in the heavyweight divisions.

"But our guys will get heavier with time," he added.

Spartan members are from Missouri and Illinois and two members, Rick Wickham and Frank Faulkner, are students at SIUE. The Spartans train three to four times a week, and Miller says they are "very faithful" athletes.

South dumps

Your team is ahead, time is of vital importance to the other team, and you have possession. South had all three.

By passing the ball around, once across the ten second or half way line, South was able to drain the clock of 51 seconds before Parker was fouled. The foul forced the Warriors to shoot free throws and possibly give up possession.

Parker made the first end of a one and one situation and Blasingame, of South, got the rebound—South still held the ball. Blasingame was fouled and Heubner got the rebound after Blasingame made only his first shot. Athen Vaughn was fouled, he made both of his tosses, which gave the ball to the Wildcats, however, the score had soared to 61-50 by this time.

But, Lovejoy only held the ball for a short time, in fact the only Lovejoyian to hold the ball was the one throwing it in. It was a bad throw in and Vaughn got the ball for the Warriors.

Again Vaughn was fouled and again Vaughn made two out of two from the line, 63-50. Lovejoy got a proper throw in, but missed their shot and Granite rebounded.

With 37 seconds in the contest, Parker made the last bucket of the ball game, from five feet out on the right side, 65-50.

By winning yesterday's game, South qualified for the semi-finals in the tourney. South will do battle at Wood River tonight at 6:15. If they win, they will play for the championship, Friday night at 9 p.m. However, if they happen to lose, they will contest at 7 p.m. tomorrow for third place honors.

HALSEY MILLER, weightlifting coach for the Spartan club, demonstrates the form that won him a state weightlifting championship in Arizona in the late 1950's. His goal for the club is the 1980 Olympics in Moscow.

"They even get upset if they miss a training session," he said. Miller's dedication comes with the training. Members of the club train at both the St. Charles Boys Club and the Spartan Spa in Granite City, which is the club's sponsor.

Miller said, "I try to see every member at least once a week," which means he must travel back and forth from St. Charles to Granite City to Edwardsville many times a week.

And yes, Miller still competes himself even though he's close to 50 years old. However, he refrains from competing during Spartan meets so he can concentrate on coaching.

"Coaching is so rewarding," he said. It will be extremely rewarding if the Spartan club is represented in the 1980 Olympics.

"My goal is to beat the Russians in 1980. I'm sure we will place at least one guy in the Olympics," he said thoughtfully, "and maybe others. It's quite a way off, and some guys develop pretty fast."

Miller holds a Ph.D. in geology and zoology from the University of Kansas at Lawrence. He has been employed at SIUE since 1969 and has been involved in area archeological digs, in addition to authorship of a book, "The Fossil Origins of Man."

Wrestling Steelers add two varsity wins

Concluding their varsity holiday prior to today's 6, Rich Unger (105) pinned his foe in 1:13 and then won the North High 10-2, while Bob Kirgan (112) School Steelers clicked for two decisive victories during the Christmas weekend, 45-17 at Bethalto and then 43-9 on the North mats against DeSmet of St. Louis.

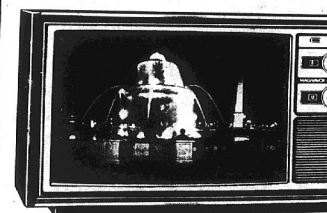

Against the Bethalto and DeSmet opponents in that order, Gerald Miller (98 and 21 seconds.

Tracy Patton (119) won 18-12 and won again, 8-4. Allan Kirgan (126) gained a pin in 3:07 and won by default, and Greg Shemwell (132) won 14-2 and pinned his next opponent in a minute lost in 2:38 and won by a forfeit.

Steelers Kevin Shemwell (138) won 20-0 and won 13-1; Bruce Uzunoff (145) won in 5:12 and won by 15-1; Brad Taylor (155) lost in 3:28 and by 0-2.

More police on buses

"Don't be surprised to see someone on a Bi-State bus making an arrest or issuing a summons if a law is being broken," says Barry M. Locke, departing Bi-State Development Agency executive director. Security aboard the buses will be increased on Monday, Jan. 1, 1979, when Bi-State increases the number of area plainclothes police officers who ride bus lines in their off-duty hours.

An undisclosed number of policemen will board buses at random locations and times to provide wider coverage of passenger protection.

They will work in the geographic areas of their jurisdiction and will be able to make arrests or issue summonses if unlawful acts are committed. Daily reports will be submitted by the officers to Bi-State Security Coordinator Tom O'Driscoll.

In another development, Locke has sent letters to 113 law enforcement agency officials throughout the region requesting their assistance in providing the public with greater protection while riding Bi-State buses. The request noted that, effective Jan. 1, all police officers traveling to and from their place of employment will be allowed to ride any Bi-State bus without charge.

"This updated approach can greatly benefit the riding public by increasing the presence of area police officers who would be able to act in the event of an illegal or disruptive occurrence threatening passenger safety or normal service," Locke said.

Also endorsing the letter was Louis F. Gerleman, president of Division 788, Amalgamated Transit Union.

O'Driscoll expects a dramatic reduction in offenses involving passengers and bus operators.

"We have greatly increased our level of coverage," he said, "and those offenders who have in the past caused trouble aboard a Bi-State bus are in for a surprise the next time they create a disturbance."

"The additional security measures—plus the help of concerned citizens and Bi-State's other security features, such as communication with a central radio dispatch center and with road supervisors—will provide Bi-State passengers safer and more comfortable bus rides in 1979," O'Driscoll concluded.

Bi-State transports 67 million riders each year aboard 1,000 buses covering 80 million miles in the two-state region.

Three parked cars struck

Terry J. Manion, 17, of 3140 Myrtle Ave., sustained an injury during a mishap involving three cars, all parked in the 2200 block of Illinois Avenue this week. He was charged with reckless driving.

Police said Manion apparently was driving south on Illinois Avenue when he lost control of his car and struck a Chevrolet sedan owned by Tom Barry and parked outside 2210 Illinois Ave.

The motorist then hit a 1978 Monte Carlo, belonging to Geraldine Speece, parked at 2208 Illinois, which was jolted backward on impact and struck a 1973 Malibu, also owned by Mrs. Speece. Manion told police he fell asleep at the wheel.

Lawsuit filed

Sharon Kay Sawyer has filed a four-count lawsuit on behalf of Thomas Duane Sawyer, a minor, in Madison County Circuit Court against Granite City School District Nine and Powermatic Houdaille, Inc.

The suit alleges that Thomas Sawyer, a 13-year-old on Sept. 14, 1978, was injured in a manufacturing class at Grigby Junior High School, when a power sander injured his left hand and fingers.

It seeks in excess of $15,000 per count with one count naming the school district and three counts naming the manufacturer of the sander.

Haste makes waste in setting pay of Illinois judges

The haste with which Illinois legislators enacted a state pay raise has been shown to be hazardous, and not only in its adverse impact on lawmakers' popularity. Too-fast General Assembly action usually means flaws in the new legislation, and the salary increase law is no exception.

A Morgan County circuit judge, John Wright, 62, last week became the first judicial branch member to retire unexpectedly and take advantage of a pension larger than his salary of the past year. Paid $42,500 for working, he will get $42,925 for not working.

Nearly keeping pace with the Illinois paid in the nation, circuit judges in this state have been the second-highest salaried state trial judges in the nation. And, as reflected by what happened in Morgan County, the Illinois judges now have the most lucrative pension benefits in America.

Fatality shows hazards related to emergency cars

Details of last night's tragic accident involving a police car and pedestrians were still being determined as this was being written. But the fatality clearly illustrates the hazards present when emergency vehicles hurry through crowded streets.

Their missions usually dictate that they must take priority over other traffic and speed to and from their destinations. They may be giving aid, for example, to a heart attack victim whose survival depends on help being provided without delay.

This is not the first time that death has occurred on Madison Avenue in a crash involving an emergency vehicle. A previous tragedy including a fire truck took place at the 27th Street intersection, while last night's collision was near 21st Street.

Emergency drivers, of course, need to keep in mind that for various reasons others may not hear or see them. And all who are aware of an official vehicle approaching at high speed must endeavor to clear a path and then stop, so that the ambulance, police car or fire engine does not have to make unexpected, abrupt maneuvers.

Two hurt, 2 charged in fight

Two young men were injured and two others are in custody after a fight at the Upper Level Lounge, 19th and State streets, at 11:25 p.m. Wednesday. Police said a knife and a gun were involved in the melee.

Officers reported they found "mass confusion" when they arrived, with people looking someone had a gun. They found Robert Clark of 2908 Buxton Ave., bleeding from the head and face.

Some patrons pointed to Michael R. Chandler, 30, of 1832 Cleveland Blvd., alleging he had a gun. Police searched him and after finding a gun in the waistband of his trousers.

Officers were told that

Robert Clark and Jeff Clark, 21, of 2735 Buxton Ave., had been seated at a table when two men came over and one started hitting Robert Clark. Lounge security officers tried to break up the fight, but one man was stepping on Robert's head, so Jeff Clark intervened, police were told.

A second man then grabbed Jeff from behind, fought with him and then Jeff's face with a knife or piece of glass, he related. Jeff Clark went to the restroom to wash the blood from his face and then left the lounge. He stopped a passing police car and asked officers to take him to the hospital.

He was treated, but refused X-rays and left the hospital.

Party tonight for seniors at Chouteau

Senior citizens of Chouteau Township are to be entertained at a Christmas party at the Chouteau Township hall beginning at 7 p.m. today.

All senior citizens 55 years of age or older have been invited. The Granite City senior citizens kitchen band will play and a gift exchange is planned.

Those who wish to take part in the gift exchange have been asked to bring a 2-gift.

Refreshments will be served, followed by dancing.

No relative CETA-paid

A relative of a Granite City Steel executive trained to work at the plant's wastewater treatment facility was not paid by the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA), a spokesman said this week.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation is checking CETA records in Madison County and elsewhere in the U.S. to find possible expenditure abuses.

An official had said Dec. 20 in Springfield that of a group trained at Granite City Steel, four were released to work with his well-paid father. But the assertion was in error, in that the trainee was not associated with CETA.

Hope to overturn annexation

The supervisors of Nameoki and Venice townships used last night's Nameoki Town Board of Trustees meeting as a forum to express their objections to Tuesday night's annexation by Granite City of a 427-acre tract northwest of the city for an industrial park.

Supervisor Harold Davis said he plans to explore what actions the township can take to overturn the annexation.

Calling the annexation "disgusting," Davis alleged the city has been planning the annexation for years and even annexed a parcel of land near Johnson School to make the property, which is owned by Illinois Power Co., contiguous to the city limits.

Davis implied that the city watched while the township did all the work to install new sanitary sewers in the area, and now moved to take advantage of the sewers in the industrial park.

"I do not want to stop Illinois Power from building up this area. I just do not know why it is going to be in Granite City. We are going to be the complete losers in this thing," Davis said.

He noted the township would be able to provide the additional police and fire protection needed by an industrial park since most large industries have their own security.

Venice Township Supervisor Chris Pashoff stated, "It's lousy." He said the annexation was "politically motivated," and said the townships are "a football being kicked around to benefit Granite City. Their objective is to take over the township so they can have our land."

Tree of Lights reaches $23,000

Granite City Steel's top executive officer called Wednesday to say a $

LAKE SCHOOL students, Tricia and Stacey Turpenoff visit with Santa Claus during a Christmas program held at the school. They are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Rick Turpenoff, 18 Hanson Drive.

Mrs. Lombardi hosts meeting

Preceptor Beta Gamma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, held their regular meeting at 3220 Zippel Ave. hosted by Lora Mae Lombardi.

The meeting was called to order at 8 p.m. by President May Ebling. The treasurers and secretaries reports were submitted and reports of standing committees were read.

The chapter received a Christmas letter from Mrs. Harvey (Betty) Ebling, absentee member who is wintering in Arizona. Each member also received a hand crafted Christmas ornament of pearls and crystal beads from Mrs. Ebling.

Social committee reported chapter Christmas party would be held after the holidays to be hosted by Dolores Byrnes.

The program was given by Norma Rains and Dolores Byrnes. Rains read various excerpts on New Years resolutions. Dolores Byrnes discussed "Unemployment," and stated that people who are unemployed have the most difficult job in the world, and that is finding a job.

There was a chapter discussion of wedding customs in different areas of our country. Arlene Haldeman was able to relate many of the Amish customs, and Ruth Stoyanoff discussed the customs in the upper peninsula, as well as many Indian tribal customs.

Refreshments and coffee was served to the chapter's guest for the evening, Mrs. Hilda Foster of St. Louis and the following members, Dolores Byrnes, Jane Laule, Imogene Forrest, Arlene Haldeman, Martha Jean Dyer, Ruth Stoyanoff, Pat Tsigalaroff, May Ebling, Norma Rains, Evelyn Tolliver and Gloria Jean Druhe.

The second-grade classes recited and dramatized elements C. Moore's "The Night Before Christmas," then sang several Christmas songs which included "Up on the Housetop," "O Christmas Tree," "Santa's Helpers," "My Peppermint Stick," and "Jingle Bells." Second-graders participating were Jeff Atchley, Becky Button, Chris Byrne, Toni Goforth, John Greco, Tracie Greco, Kara Heath, Amy Hildebrand, Melissa Huett.

Also, Gail Huffman, Lori Johnson, Dawn Martin, Michele Massey, Tammy Naler, Valerie Page, Robie Poston, Lisa Ray, Kim Staveland and Jason Zingrich. Mrs. Williams directed the sixth-grader chorus in "Rui Rui Chui," "La Pinata" (sang in Spanish), "Tum, Tum, Tum," "Go Tell it on the Mountain," with solos by Rhonda Goforth and Diana Lewis, and "Silver Bells," a duet by Stephanie Hayes and Robin Burns, and piano accompaniment by Joe Staveland.

Other selections included "Christmas Song," a duet by Tony Watson and Mike Salem, "White Christmas," a trio by Jill Grovin, Candie Martin, and Debbie Strain, "O Come All Ye Faithful," a duet sung by Jody Gravelle and Trina Kilponen, "Silent Night," a trio by Diana Lewis, Michelle Tapp and Tracy Johnson, "Jingle Bells," a duet by Rhonda Goforth and Mary Jo Gotsch and "Deck the Halls," a duet by Janita Redfern and Terry Janulavich.

Other members of the chorus included Dale Beck, Chris Coyle, Tim Deckard, Tammy Jones, Tammy Meyer, Mike Mulla, Danny Phillips, Craig Reed, Teresa Reynolds, Vicki Sherfy, Vince Slecka, Chris Vinson, Dawn Warford and Greg Weidenhoffer.

Following the program, refreshments were served by second and third-grade mothers, and Santa Claus arrived, much to the excitement of the youngsters present. He was ushered to his special chair and there he talked to and posed for photographs with the children.

Women of the Moose Chapter 247 served dinner in the festively decorated hall.

Highlighting the evening was the induction of three generations of one family, the first time such an occurrence has happened in the club's history.

Ruth Smoot, Victoria Whitehead and Sharon Whitehead were congratulated and welcomed into the Granite City business club by Lois Wetton, BPW president.

Also welcomed following their initiation were Zelma Finch, Sharold Yount and Betty May.

A brief business session was conducted by Mrs. Wetton with Annelise Smith nominated as a candidate for the office of second vice-president of the Illinois Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Emylee Alford, Christmas party chairman, introduced an entertaining performance by Beth Sobolewski, Lynda Loftus and Mark Belleville, all members of the drama department at Granite City High School North.

The trio performed two skits.

Glaucoma screening planned

One of the leading causes of blindness in Illinois will be the target Jan. 9 when the Lions Mobile Screening Unit comes to Granite City.

Glaucoma is an eye disease without noticeable symptoms in its early stages, but one with inevitable progress toward blindness unless it is detected and treated in time, authorities say. Glaucoma is most prevalent among adults.

The Lions tests will be given free of charge from 9 a.m. to 12 noon at the Granite City Township Building, 2060 Delmar Ave.

Staffing the unit will be local Lions volunteers headed by Roger Franck and local nursing volunteers, Pat McElvoy, Stephanie Dunn and Pat Johnson, plus medical personnel to perform the actual screening.

Sponsors are the Lions of Illinois Foundation and the University of Illinois Department of Ophthalmology.

No appointments are necessary for the tests, which takes only a few minutes and are painless. In the test for glaucoma, a measuring instrument is placed on the eye to record the fluid pressure in the eyeball.

An elevated pressure might mean glaucoma, or it might mean something else. Persons with an elevated pressure are referred to doctors for a complete eye checkup.

Since the Lions unit began its work in 1969, over 330,000 Illinois residents have been screened. More than 1,500 people have been found to have glaucoma in various stages of the disease and, as a result, have been warned in time to undergo treatment necessary to preserve sight.

We wouldn't lay a lie on you

By GARRY N. MURPHY
Department of English
About language:
LIE-LAY - Mary T. Hurst of Hillsboro, wants a review of the ancient "lie-lay" confusion. She writes, "Some of my smartest friends say, 'Look at him laying on the couch.' " They are not the only ones. The other day, a network radio announcer warned motorists of all the corvoive salt "laying around on the streets." This error is not tolerated in writing and should not be tolerated in "professional" speech. LAY, meaning "to place," is a transitive verb and therefore requires an object. The principal parts are: lays(s), laid, laid, laying. He "lays" the pillow on the couch. Two days ago he

"laid" it there. He can also "lay" himself down there, but he cannot just "lay" there. Only chickens "lay" intransitively, and then only, shall we say, somewhat eggcentrically. LIE, meaning "to recline," is the intransitive verb and works without an object. The principal parts are a little more complicated: lie(s), lay, lain, lying. He "lies" on the couch, and so does the pillow. The pillow "has lain" there longer than he has. Two days ago, the pillow "lay" (not "laid") on the couch all by itself, but now they are both "lying" (not "laying") there together.

Now I lay me down to sleep. The verbs distinct I'll always keep. If I should "lay" when I should "lie." Let chickens cackle till I die. + + + Send questions to Prof. Garry Murphy, Department of English, Box 43, SU at Edwardsville, Ill. 62026.

THIEF ENTERS VAN An AM-FM radio and cassette tape player and a number of tapes were taken from the 1978 van of Thomas Holtgrave, 2251 Delmar Ave., by a burglar who pried open a wing window to enter the vehicle. Considerable damage was done to the dashboard in removing the built-in equipment.

JAN PERKINS has been promoted by the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service from associate home economics adviser to extension adviser-youth. The youth adviser position is new to Madison County, having been established by the Extension Councils in November of this year. In her new position, Mrs. Perkins will assume responsibility for the 4-H program and "calendar of youth" activities. She will be assisted by the other county advisers, Larry Lappin, Ron Cornwell and Catherine Mauck, in the conduct of the 4-H and youth program, which encompasses 100 clubs, 289 leaders and 2,308 members.

Builders' officers to begin duties

Byron Farrell, of G. Heimkamp Excavating & Trucking Co. of Wood River, has been elected president of the Southern Illinois Builders Association. The election took place at the 33rd annual business meeting, held in mid-December.

Jack Haydon, Haydon Construction Co. of East St. Louis, was elected first vice-president and Fred Persson, Steffes Construction Co. of Carthage, was elected second vice-president.

J. J. Altman, representing J. J. Altman & Co. of East St. Louis, was elected secretary-treasurer. Directors elected to three-year terms were: Monty Doctor, MacLair Asphalt Co., Collinsville; Thomas Morgan, Robert L. Morgan Builder, Inc., Murphysboro, and Glenn Wolfe, M. H. Wolfe & Co., Granite City.

Donald Schubert, Ralph Korte Construction Co. of Marion, was elected to a two-year term on the SIBA board of directors.

Directors elected to one-year terms were: Vincent Kosarek, Kosarek Construction Co., New Athens; John Pickett, Fruin-Colon Corp., St. Louis, and Kenneth Shaw, Wabash Asphalt Co., Inc., Mt. Carmel.

The new directors and officers will take office on Jan. 1, 1979. Howard Hall, Algis Lühr, Tom Reese and Leo Wolf, the latter of the L. Wolf Co. of Granite City, served as members of the 1978 nominating committee.

Paul Howard, president-elect of the Associated General Contractors of America, was guest speaker at the December meeting. Members in attendance were given reports on the activities of the association during the past year, and a preview of what possibly lies ahead in the next 12 months for the construction industry in Southern Illinois.

BATTERY COMPLAINT L. N. Long, 56, of 1704 State St., was arrested Monday on a complaint alleging battery and signed by his wife, Irene Long. She alleged he struck her during a family disturbance.

Physical fitness in the new year at 'Y'

The week of Jan. 1, 1979, will mark the start of winter fitness classes at the Tri-City Area YMCA at 2001 Edison Avenue.

The women's exercise program will expand both its services and times. Lee Suarez, Ellen Wilson and Key Murray will teach exercise classes and provide class members with individual weight loss and measurement charts and dietary suggestions.

Three separate classes will be offered and individuals who enroll may attend any one class or all three.

The morning class will now meet on Mondays and Wednesdays at 10 and Fridays at 9:30. The noon class will add another day to the already established Tuesday-Thursday class. This lunchtime class will meet on Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays. The evening class, which meets on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 7, features an hour of women's swimming immediately following, from 8 to 9, and a swimming instructor will be provided for those who wish to learn.

Additionally, on Tuesdays and Thursdays, the gymnasium will be open to women in the evening class, and activities such as volleyball are planned. Fee for these classes is $12 for non-members. "Y" members attend free. The fee includes all three classes.

The highly successful men's cardiovascular exercise program will begin on Wednesday, Jan. 3. This pulse-rate based program features progressive intervals of running, walking, stretching and muscle toning. Individuals keep a record of their own progress on the official class pulse rate monitor card.

Three classes are scheduled on Mondays, Wednesday and Fridays, at 7 a.m., 11:45 a.m. and 5 p.m. Starting Jan. 3, the 5 p.m. class will be a good running class. A YMCA membership is required for entrance into this class, with 3-month, 6-month and annual rates available.

New Ecclesia entertains at Hoyleton

Thirteen members of the New Ecclesia, the adult fellowship group of St. John United Church of Christ, entertained 25 children at a Christmas party at the Hoyleton Children's Home, a United Church of Christ mission, in Hoyleton, Ill., last week.

Representing St. John Church were Mr. and Mrs. James Engelke, Mr. and Mrs. James Fuhrman, Mr. and Mrs. John Fuhrman, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Gaines, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Robertson, Miss Jennifer Sage, and Mr. and Mrs. Steven Suss.

Highlighting the evening was a pizza party where the children created their own pizzas.

The children were presented two commercial, regulation-size football tables, and many records and games by the New Ecclesia who also decorated the recreation room and cafeteria with motifs donated by members of the church.

Each child received a personalized stocking filled with Christmas "goodies." Additionally, the Hilltoppers, the senior citizens group at St. John Church, presented the home with a monetary gift.

The Hoyleton Home was founded as an Evangelical orphanage late in the 19th century and is still a haven for troubled and unwanted children, the officers added.

Two injured, hospitalized

A car operated by Sherry R. Warren, 19, of 2532 State St., southbound on Nameoki Road at Clark Avenue at 8:15 p.m. Saturday, was struck by another vehicle, with the impact turning the Warren car around. The latter auto ended up facing north in the northbound lanes of Nameoki Road.

Mrs. Warren was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital with pains in the back of the head. She was admitted for observation. Driver of the second vehicle, James T. Hilleman, 20, of Rural Route One, Box 1265, struck his head on the windshield and was taken to the hospital by ambulance for treatment of pains in the head and left knee. He also was admitted for observation.

$600 TV, DOLLY GONE

An RCA color console television, valued at $600, sitting on a dolly, worth $100, on the sidewalk outside State Radio and TV, 1936 State St., were both stolen when Jim Vaughn, an employee, went to the rear of the shop for a few moments at 6:15 p.m. Friday.

degree of determination. To back off too soon or to fail to administer enough pressure could result in a loss of momentum quickly, perhaps necessitating subsequent measures far more harmful to the economy than a job properly done at this time.

With the economy at present extremely high level, the anti-inflation game plan will not produce traumatic consequences. But, if the economy, instead, a winding down in the business tempo of sufficient intensity and duration to qualify technically as a recession — that is, at least two successive calendar quarters of backtracking in national output.

We look for the gross national product (output of goods and services (ex inflation) to record slippages in the second and third quarters of 1979 after a fairly decent opening quarter, with a recovery beginning sometime in the final three months. That scenario work out this way, the 1979 recession could as well be described as a "no growth" period, mild in comparison with other recessions in our past history.

Of course, there is bound to be some disruption, but that should be a small price to pay compared with what might happen if inflation were allowed to run unchecked.

PLENTY OF WORRIES—HOPES TOO

There may be as many reasons for public uneasiness in 1979 as there were in 1978. Prices will rise further — though not as sharply as the past year, — and there will naturally be concern about the effectiveness of the battle against inflation.

Also, the diminution of business vitality will spawn fears about possible layoffs, reduced job openings, and less hefty pay checks because of curtailments in overheads and cutbacks in workweeks. In a year chock-full of labor contract bargaining, the threat of strikes will be much in evidence.

There could, of course, be some optimistic influences. If anti-inflation efforts make some headway, for example, the status of the dollar could improve, lifting confidence of investors and businessmen.

GROSS NATIONAL PRODUCT Gross national product — on the basis of current dollars — will undoubtedly trend higher, owing principally to inflation. But the gain will be substantially less than that of 1978.

Activity in the credit-dependent sectors of the economy will slow, and government spending for most of the twelve months ahead will be more restrained than in past recessions, reflecting the new-found concern of the federal government with budget spending and achieving tax relief.

How long this attitude will last under recession pressures remains to be seen — and especially what effect upon the country's legislators at all levels. Though the economy may stutter during some of 1979, the real GNP (with inflation factored out) will be able to manage a sliver of an increase of about 2 percent for the year as a whole.

INDUSTRIAL PRODUCTION Despite price inflation along a broad front and the sequence of step-ups in borrowing costs in 1978, the urge to act before prices advanced even further brought sales of cars and homes last year to a higher level than one would have thought likely.

Since consumer demand in these — and in other — major fields represented at least to some degree an advance siphoning from 1979 markets and the incurring of debt in the process, the task of duplicating last year's results seems formidable.

With interest rates now even higher and credit supplies tighter, the task for business and government will be arduous. Babson's forecast for industrial production in 1979, therefore, is for a moderate — around 2 percent — increase.

Strong showings in output of transportation equipment, military goods, and computer equipment — plus a rebound in nonmilitary shipbuilding — will be needed to prevent a more painful slump in total industrial production.

BUSINESS INVENTORIES The economy will not receive any upward impetus from business inventory accumulation during much of 1979. Management's thinking on this matter will reflect the high cost of borrowed money, while the need for stockpiling will diminish as industrial activity slackens. There are, of course, bounds to duplicating inventory build-ups owing to possible labor shortages, but these will give way to liquidations once the danger is over.

For the coming year, the key consideration is that the country will be confronted with an economic adjustment either caused by or intensified by top-heavy inventory positions. The need to liquidate redundant inventory holdings has spawned many a cyclical business down-phase in the past.

But during the last three and a half years, businessmen have by and large kept their inventory positions lean. So, while inventory policies will not impart much stimulus to business in '79, neither will they drag it down.

BUSINESS CAPITAL EXPENDITURES

Business outlays for new plant and equipment lagged markedly in the early stages of the economic advance that began in the spring of 1978. This was perfectly normal since there was an abundance of productive capacity at that time. Over the past two years, however, capital expenditures have gained momentum as climbing production rates have increasingly strained plant facilities.

Expenditures for new plant and equipment, however, have been hampered by the exigencies of climbing interest rates and environmental quality regulations have also spurred spending for more efficient equipment. But the upsurge in the cost of borrowed funds has adverse implications for capital investments.

For 1979, the staff of Babson's Reports expects only a modest increase in capital expenditures — perhaps amounting to 3 percent in real terms and about 10 percent in inflation included. Yet, outlays will still run at a brisk tempo, sustained by hefty backlogs.

THE LABOR FRONT 1979 faces a busy schedule of labor negotiations involving a number of important industries, including petroleum, trucking, auto, electric products, and rubber.

The voluntary wage-price restraints will undergo tests in these bargaining sessions. Labor groups have expressed disapproval of the 7 percent ceiling on wage hikes and fringe gains combined.

They will acquiesce only if the lid is applied to direct wage increments alone and if living costs are restrained.

Residential building enjoyed a banner year in 1978. Generally available mortgage rates — though at costly rates — kept housing starts extremely high.

Added to the need for shelter dictated by population pressures was the impetus to home building stemming from the inflation psychology.

Now that mortgage rates have reached levels making such a venture more difficult, and tighter bank credit has adversely impacted mortgage money supplies, home building faces a slacker year.

Babson's is forecasting a decline from around 2 million units in the private sector for 1979 to some 1.6 million for 1979.

In heavy construction there will be little real growth. Government and corporate budgets are under stress, and building costs have risen significantly. A sharp letdown, however, is not anticipated.

CORPORATE PROFITS—DIVIDENDS

Business profits recovered from an opening-quarter loss owing principally to the effects of the coal strike, and the balance of 1978 experienced excellent operating results.

But 1979 will not see a repeat of the past year's outstanding achievement in corporate profits. Militating against it will be further cost advances, slower business conditions, the restraints on price boosts, and the widespread repercussions of the seemingly unavoidable OPEC hike in oil prices.

Babson's is projecting for 1979 as a year of three successive years of corporate profits after taxes, and even this will be mostly the result of the slight paring of federal corporate income tax.

Still, by historical standards, the 1979 profit level will look good. Strengthening corporate financial positions over the past three years will permit well-maintained dividend payments, and there can still be the goodly sprinkling of rate steps-ups.

EMPLOYMENT-JOBLESSNESS The unemployment rate, despite a healthy employment gains, easing conditions in a number of large job sources will restrict 1979's increment to only a slight upswing in the unemployment rate.

During the recession we expect, the number of jobholders could shade off, but the frightening rash of layoffs which occurred in late 1974 and early 1975 is not in the cards for 1979.

Nevertheless, there will be some gain in the number of jobless workers as well as in the unemployment rate.

The latter will, in fact, work its way back up over the 7 percent mark of the civilian labor force, even though it was backed to 5.7 percent in mid-1978. The real problem will not be layoffs but rather not enough job openings to absorb the additions to the nation's labor force.

PERSONAL INCOME With no massive employment dislocations expected, the upturn in personal income should continue next year.

On the plus side will be the hike in the minimum wage, automatic pay increases under existing multi-year labor pacts, and fresh pay raises in 1979 union settlements. Income from dividends and interest will post good gains, as will earnings in the farm sector.

Hence, even though personal income will not climb as rapidly as it has in recent years, consumers will still have a heartening volume of purchasing power.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

Thurs., Dec. 28, 1978 Page 27

CONSUMER SPENDING

Uneasiness over a less sparkling business climate and the specter of labor tie-ups and some job cutbacks will moderate consumers' buying intentions over a good portion of the new year.

There will be a greater emphasis on reducing installment debt and on building up savings.

This will, naturally, tend to strengthen the economy beyond the months immediately ahead, but the short-run impact will be to hold unit sales and gross dollar volume of retail trade somewhat below desired levels. But Babson's still does not foresee any radical curtailment of consumer eagerness to buy in the approaching 12 months.

AGRICULTURAL PROSPECTS 1979 was another bumper crop year for American farmers, with incomes posting a good increase over 1977.

Many in the agricultural sector feel, however, that farm prices have been lagging relative to the inflation in operating costs and the cost of living.

Prospects do favor additional firming of crop prices, but huge carryovers are deterrents to any runaway price advances. As for livestock prices, the upturn of the past year will progress further in 1979.

DOMESTIC POLITICAL SCENE

The anti-inflation battle and the related wage-price restraint program of the Carter Administration will command much attention as the new year progresses.

On Capitol Hill, though, there will be no dearth of issues. Making a big push in the coming session of Congress will be proponents of a comprehensive National Health Insurance program, as well as advocates of increased funding for seeking alternative fuel and energy sources.

There will be, too, attempts to redress the energy and tax measures passed by the last Congress, both of which were compromised to the point of multilateral dissatisfaction. Also problematic for the Administration will be the drive to shape a less inflationary federal budget for fiscal 1980.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS The international arena remains loaded with anxiety-producing issues. The six-party peace negotiations between Egypt and Israel — still with important points of disagreement at this writing — offer a possible beacon of hope.

But the areas of sharply divided views do underscore the vast complexities of Mideast problems.

The situation in Lebanon has yet to be resolved, and the turmoil in Iran has even more significant ramifications for the Western World. After all, Iran is a heavy exporter of petroleum; it borders Russia; and it is strategically located in terms of the shipping lanes for Mideast oil. In Africa, continued tensions are likely.

Even in Asia, there are deep-rooted conflicts along with contemporary power-struggle connotations. It should be noted, however, that an accord on the second phase of the strategic arms limitation talks could improve U.S.-Soviet ties.

MONEY SUPPLIES—INTEREST RATES

The tightening of credit will not let up for some months, and the rise in interest rates seems destined to persist well into this winter or even into the spring of 1979.

Right now, we look for the prime lending rate of the nation's leading commercial banks to peak around the 12 percent mark, but a rapid and sharp subsequent turnaround is not likely.

We do not, however, anticipate the awesome economic disruptions caused by credit crunches of the past dozen years or so.

STOCK AND BOND OUTLOOK

Concern over the U. S. dollar's poor showing against stronger foreign currencies and the frightening climb in money rates in 1978 frustrated the stock market's attempts to sustain its upward drives.

At present, with the economy seeming fated to slip into a recession, the 1979 stock market outlook appears discouraging to many investors.

Yet Babson's Reports expects improvement in the status of the dollar and in the nation's balance of trade to revitalize investment sentiment.

And at some point the stock market will likely commence to discount economic recovery after the recession. So, with many stocks trading at very low multiples of their latest twelve-month earnings and even relative to their probable profits for the year ahead, forward-looking investors will find a wide selection of opportunities in common stocks and convertible securities.

The Babson Staff expects the Dow Jones Industrial Average in 1979 to hold in the same range as in 1978. But if headway is made toward curbing inflation, bolstering the dollar, and improving our trade balance, the DJIA could well launch a drive which would carry it into new high ground.

With interest rates nearing a peak, the bond market should also give a better account of itself in the year ahead.

In coming months, investors in need of strengthening their position in fixed-income investments will have ample opportunity to acquire bonds and preferred stocks that provide attractive yields.

Arrest 5 in tavern fight

Three men and two women were arrested after a fight outside the Long Branch Tavern, Grand and Niedringhaus avenues, at 10:30 p.m. Sunday, during which an officer was held and kicked.

Officers received a disturbance call and alleged finding five persons in the street, some swinging fists and yelling obscenities.

Police broke up the fight and put two men in squad cars, but alleged two women refused to stop yelling obscenities and names at the officers.

They scuffled with police and one of the men, Vernon E. McClanahan, 30, Pocahontas, Ill., allegedly grabbed Patrolman Dan Rosenberg around the neck with an arm. Force had to be used to subdue him.

Sandra D. Murray, 28, of 1344 State St., Madison, allegedly kicked Rosenberg during the scuffle and also was arrested. Both were charged with battery and obstructing a peace officer.

Also arrested were Cathy A. Schneide, 19, of 2218 E. 23rd St., who was charged with resisting arrest and disorderly conduct; Emil R. Schneide, 20, of the same address, charged with disorderly conduct; and Henry L. Ledbetter, 38, of 4802 Kirkpatrick, who also was charged with disorderly conduct.

All five were released after posting bonds ranging from $100 to $202 cash.

Sentenced to county jail

Terry D. Gargac, 28, of 2005 Bryan Ave., has been sentenced in Madison County Circuit Court to serve two years of probation and 90 days in the Madison County Jail and to pay a $300 fine after pleading guilty to aggravated battery.

Circuit Judge Horace Calvo pronounced sentence. Gargac allegedly scuffled with officers after a routine traffic arrest Sept. 9 and Granite City Patrolman J. W. Apperson suffered two broken bones in this right hand.

'Thinking about suicide' man says

A Lemay, Mo. man, who told police he was "only thinking about committing suicide" was found in a rigged car, parked on St. John's Cemetery grounds, 2901 Namek Road, during the weekend.

The man was sitting inside an auto that had a hose connected from the exhaust to the vehicle's interior.

A Granite City man who came upon the car and called police said the man had been sitting there with the engine running for at least 10 minutes.

The Missouri resident was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital by officers for examination.
